WOODWARD & LOTHROP. GRAND CHRISTMAS SALE

Ladies' and Men's Initial Handk'ch'fs

HEADQUARTERS.

We hardly think it necessary to again mention the fact that we keep none but Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, from the lowest to the highest price; hence the immense business we are doing in these lines. The people are beginning to learn that "linen" is better than cottonand-linen, even if a little bit coarser. The wear and whiteness are there.

These goods are put up in neat, pretty boxes especially for Christmas gifts. We sell almost as many Handkerchiefs at Christmas as we do the rest of the year. We

The Arizona Indian Troubles.-Com missioner Atkins has received information confirming the reported murder of a number of the White Mountain Indians, squaws and children in the White Mountains, Ari-zona, by a band of Apaches supposed to be headed by Geronimo's brother.

The President's Callers .- Among the President's callers to-day were Attorney-General Garland, Secretary Endicott, who did not go to Indianapolis; District Commissioner Webb, Speaker Carlisle, Representatives Warner, McCreary, Heach and Voorhees, and Surveyor-General John C. Thompson.

Smuggling on the Border,-Governor Zalick of Arizona reports to the Secretary of the Interior that suruggling is freely car-ried on without let or bindrance between Arizona and the State of Sonora, in Mexico. The principal articles suruggled into Ari-rona are liquors made from the cactus and cigarettes and cigars.

A New City Postoffice.-The Postmaster-General in his annual report refers to the buildings rented by the Department in this city. He recommends a renewed appropriation for the rental of the Marini building and says: The Washington City Postoffice occupies still another, at a rental of $5,000, which has become inadequate already for the transaction of its growing business. None of these are fire-proof, and the destruction of either would probably involve the loss of valuable records, especially of the first mentioned. In view of the many years which will be required for its construction, the recommendation of my predecessors that a new building or an addition to the Department should be constructed merits early consideration. uilding and says: The Washington City

> Mails to Foreign Countries .- In his annual report Hon, Nicholas M. Bell, Superntendent of Foreign Mails, shows approximately that during the last fiscal year the revenues on mail matter sent to foreign countries by sea to have been $985,731. The expenditures, of which $331,903 was for sea onveyance, are shown to have been $853,-510, leaving a net revenue of $132,321. The cost of the ocean service has steadily in creased from $196,684 in 1880 to $332,221 in 1884. The decrease of $317 in 1885 is explained, first, by the fact that a large portion of the mail that has heretofore been dispatched to Mexico by sea is now conveyed overland; and secondly, from a general depression of business and a decrease of immigration to this country. The amount estimated as required to be appropriated for the foreign mail service for the present year is $450,000. The total number of letters sent to foreign countries during the year is $450,000. 331. The superintendent recommends that Congress be asked to recenact the law resulting all steamships of United States registry, as the condition of their elearance, to convey the mails upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be 510, leaving a net revenue of $132,221. LOADS OF PATRONAGE. No Reliable Estimate Yet Made as to

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 2, 1885.

Candidates for Office in the House of Representatives.

GOOD THINGS IN THEIR GIFT Subordinate Positions to Be Filled by the Clerk, Doorkeeper and Sergeant-at-Arms.

When the patronage is taken into consideration, it is rather astonishing that there are not more candidates in the field for the offices which the House of Representatives has at its disposal. Of course the highest honor that the course the highest honor that the House can confer is the Speakership, and as there is but one candidate talked of, it is asseless to dwell on this matter, for Hon. John G. Carlisle of Kentucky will, on Saturday night, no doubt, receive unanimously the nomination of the Democratic caucus, which is equivalent to an election, his election on Monday being a mere formality. The Speaker is allowed a private secretary, who draws a salary of $1,800; a clerk, with a salary of $1,600; another clerk at the Speaker's table, with $1,400 salary.

with $1,400 salary. THE CHAPLAIN. During the last session Rev. John S. Lindsay, the well-known and popular Episcopal rector of Georgetown, was Chaplain of the House. There is apparently no op-position, and he will doubtless bere-elected, as he is said to desire it.

THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE. The Clerk of the House has fine patronage, The Clerk of the House has fine patronage, there being upwards of thirty positions with salaries of from $3,000 per year down to $720. General John B. Clark, an ex-Member of Congress from Missouri, is the present incumbent and is apt to succeed himself in that position, for no matter how many men may look upon the place with longing eyes none have shown nerve enough to come out as candidates, and it is rather late in the day for any man to hope to defeat a gentleman who is both popular and efficient and apparently has a waik-over. The best places at the disposal of the Clerk are the positions of chief clerk, now held by Major Thomas O. Towles of Missouri, journal and assistant journal elerks, file clerk, printing clerk, reading elerk, disbursing clerk, stationery clerk, book-keeper and superintendent of the document room. The best place, of course, is that of chief clerk, and that position will be filled again by General Clark's friend and right bower, Major Towles. General Clark's salary is $5,100 per year.

Altogether, including the high and low salarles, the patronage of the clerk amounts in round numbers to about $70,000. Five of the positions at his disposal pay $3,000 each; another, $2,500; three more are worth $2,250, and there are seven worth $2,000 each. here being upwards of thirty positions

There will be a contest for Sergeant-at-Mr. J. P. Leedom of Ohio, is a candidate for re-election, and has been working industriously to that end. Mr. C. P. Bulton of Connecticut is also in the race, and for a time Appointment Clerk Higgins of the Treasury was spoken of, but that gentleman, it seems, has not been anxious to compete, and may therefore be declared out of the contest. Mr. W. W. Armstrong, ellibor of the Cleveland (O.) Plaintealer, and Mr. Wheaton of Michigan are also candidates. The salary of the Sergeani-at-Arms is $4,500 per year. He has seven appointments, including cashier, paying teller, deputy sergeant-at-arms, messenger, book-keeper and page. Some of these are important trusts, as the amount of money handled is large. The salaries range from $3,000 down to $1,200. The entire amount in salaries in this office foots up in round numbers, about $16,000 per year. for re-election, and has been working in-

THE HOUSE DOORKEEPER of aspirants is greater than for any other place. James G. Wintersmith of Kentucky, the last Doorkeeper, died during the sum-mer, and Mr. Warder, his assistant, has mer, and Mr. Warder, his assistant, has been acting Doorkeeper. The position of Doorkeeper pays $3,000 per year. It is a place much sought after, as the patronage is considerable, there being nearly 100 places, including two assistants, several well-paid clerks, messengers, soldiers' roll, a department messenger, superintendent and assistant of the document room, etc. The salaries range from $2,000 down to $600; and the aggregate amount paid out to employes by the Doorkeeper is over $100,000 per year.

per year,
Among the candidates for Doorkeeper Among the candidates for Doorkeeper are Captain Samuel Doneison of Tennessee, Mr. John P. Trainer of New York, General James B. Coit of Connecticut and Colonel Nat Tyler of Virginia. Captain Donelson, who is at present the chief clerk of the folding-room, has had one great advantage over his competitors, in that he enjoys a personal asquaintance with all the old and many of the new members of Congress. He has been where he could make himself popular, and being a genial, open-hearted gentleman, he has naturally taken advantage of his opportunities. He has his principal backing in the West and South, where Democrats are thickest, and a strong following in all parts of the country. Mr. Trainer will get the most of his support, from the Middle and New England States. The knowing ones say the contest is really between Messys. Doneison and Trainer, but General Cost claims to have an influential support, not only in New England, but elsewhere, especially among the Grand Army men. re, especially among the Grand Army

The House Postmastership pays an annual salary of $2,500. Mr. Lycurgus Dalton of Indiana is the present Postmaster and candidate for re-election. As yet he has no opposition. There is an Assistant Postaster, who gets $2,000 a year, and sixteen messengers also help to swell the patronage of this office. The salary of each messenger of this office. The salary of each messenger is $1,200 per year.

It will be seen from the above showing that the patronage is pretty heavy, and it is somewhat remarkable that there should not be more candidates. As all of the present officers of the House are Democrats, and as most of them will be re-elected, it is reasonable to conclude that they will not make many changes in the personnel of their employes. The probabilities are that there will be more changes among the employes of the Doorkeeper than in any other office, no matter which of the candidates is successful. However, it is not thought there cessful. However, it is not thought there will be wholesale removals in any event. The contests will all have been decided by midnight of Saturday. In the meantime there will be a great deal of anxiety and much visiting of new members by the parties most interested.

THE SENATE; PRESIDENCY.

Anybody's Strength in Caucus. None of the Republican Senators who are in the city will admit that anything like a canyass has been made with a view to determining who can or shall be elected President of the Senate. A publication purporting to give the names of the supporters of Messrs, Logan, Sherman and Edmunds, respectively, was referred by a representative of Thii Churic to three Senators to-day. One of them admitted that he had been rightly classed in the category, another said he had made no decision as to how he should vote, while the third said he had been classed with the supporters of Sherman, when he had made no secret of his sincere and hearty wish that Logan might be chosen for the place half the voters of the country intended him to have a year ago. This experiment would seem to settle the fact that no one yet has a right to say what will and will not be done by the Hepublican Senators until they shall have held their caucus. Senator Van Wyck remarked to-day that he did not believe more than two Senators at any one canvass has been made with a view to deter leve more than two Senators at any one line since the death of Mr. Hendricks had smong the Poles in consequence of the deposition of Father Kolosinski is una-The troubles at St. Albert's Catholic Church were resumed this morning. When Fathers Dombrowski and Jaworski, the newly-appointed pastors, attempted to real the morning masses a crowd of 1,000 Polish women and a number of men were in the church. Each new arrival announced for advent by velling like a Cornache.

er advent by yelling like a Comanche Indian.

The services were interrupted by yells and the brandishing of fists, and the women tried to get at the altar to remove the priests. Policemen were stationed at the ladar of the alsies and prevented any process toward the altar. One women, Lizzie Jewandowski, climbed over the pews, and succeeded in getting within the sanctuary, where she prayed and yelled by turns in Polish. Father Jaworsal came forward to speak to the people, but eager hands clutched him and tore his habit off. At this time there were 30 policeman in and about the edifice, and the conflicts between officers and people were many.

about the editice, and the conflicts between officers and people were many.

Fathers Jaworski and Dombrowski were pelted with mud while crossing the street on their return to their seminary opposite the church. The police cleared the street, but the crowd closed in, making it impossible to prevent the assault. The new priests officiated this morning at a funeral. Father Kolosinski, the deposed priest, still holds out in the rectory of the church, but Bishop Borgess has given him notice to surrender the rectory to the new pastors by to-morrow night. He still leads the people but counsels moderation, fearing they may go too far. Three arrests were mails this morning. A terrible fight is feared next Sunday if something is not done to prevent it. The people use knilves, and on that day they will have nothing to do but fight.

Dwellings in November. The number of buildings erected last outh was twice as great as any previous November, as shown by the Building Inspector's monthly report. There were 187 ew dwellings and stores erected, while new dwellings and stores erected, while during the corresponding month of last year the number reached only $2, which was then thought to be a large number.

The Inspector states that the building season has been prolonged later in the year than usual on account of the fair weather and the desire to invest in real estate. The general opinion is that next spring will surpass anything in the building business that the city ever experienced.

"Little Horace," the noted New York meak thief, who robbed the National Metopolitan Bank of this city of $25,000 in sonds and money a few years ago, has been sentenced in London, Eugland, to three years in the penitentiary, along with a woman named Charlotte Docherty, with whom he has lived, and both of whom were chased out of this country. Horace has been connected with large robberies in every large city in this country. After he left here, he, with Frank Buck, robbed the subtreasury at Boston. He then went to Albany and robbed the First National Bank of $500 and a lot of drafts and checks. He and Buck then robbed the postoffice at great excitement. The boat took fire immediately after the explosion and burned to the water's edge. The entire crew, six in number, were on the boat at the time, four of whom were asleep.

The engineer and fireman were hard at work trying to got the boat off the bar, and the engines were being tested to their full-set expacity. When the explosion occurred all the crew were thrown into the river, sustaining severe injuries, but miraculously escaped drowning. James Omslaer, the owner, is seriously injured. Robert Jackson, froman, badly bruised and scalded. Joseph Richardson, badly bruised. Ex-Councilman Smith Walker, severely cut and scalded. William Wently, leg broken. The engineer, name not known, was found The engineer, name not known, was found on Herr's Island severely injured. It is thought all will recover. The boat was valued at $15,000 and is a total loss.

Further investigation as to the cause of the accident to the boat Iron City this morn-ing discloses the fact that natural gas was the accident to the boat Iron City this morning discloses the fact that natural gas was the prime cause of the explosion. The boat, it appears, had gone aground immediately over the main pipe of the Philadelphia Natural Gas Company. The surging and twisting of the boat trying to get off snapped the gas line in twain.

The gas rushing up all around the boat ignited from the furnace fire and exploded with a fearful detonation, setting fire to the boat, which was entirely consumed. All the injured will recover.
